Sir,

I would like to bring the following provision of the Tripura SC and ST Reservation Act, 1991 to your kind notice:

"5. Reservation for Scheduled Castes and Scheduled Tribes in educational Institutions, in selection of students for higher studies and in selection of candidates and in-service personnel for higher studies and training:

(a) There shall be seventeen percent reservation for the Scheduled Castes and thirty-one percent reservation for the Scheduled Tribes in admission of students to educational institutions, in selection of candidates and in-service personnel for higher studies or training;

Provided that the State Government may, from time to time, review the implementation of the reservation policy and take adequate measures including increase of percentage of reservation as mentioned in Sub-Section (a) above;

(b) The candidates belonging to the Scheduled Castes and the Scheduled Tribes who qualify for selection on merit, shall be included in the general list and not against the reserved quota."

"8. Office and Penalties:

(2) Whoever, having authority to admit, recommend, select or nominate any student to any educational Institution, admits, recommends or selects or nominates any student for higher studies or whoever having authority to admit, recommend, select or nominate any candidate or in-service personnel for higher studies or training, admits, recommends, selects or nominates any candidate in violation of Section 5 of the Act or the rules made there-under shall, on conviction, be punishable with imprisonment and fine as provided in Sub-Section(1) (a) above;"
